The Quality Hotel & Leisure Club, Clonakilty, Co. Cork.

Quality Hotel & Leisure Club, Clonakilty, 19th October, 2009 - In spite of a difficult year for the Irish hospitality industry where cost cutting has become a priority, the Quality Hotel & Leisure Club in Clonakilty, West Cork has succeeded in providing the best solution to Irish holiday makers, by striking the perfect balance of providing value for money while creating an experience for the entire family. It is therefore a fitting reward that they have received the much sought after accolade of “The Georgina Campbell Family Friendly Hotel of the Year for 2010”.

On receipt of the award, David Henry, General Manager of the hotel comments “Our aim is to continue to differentiate the hotel and focus on our ethos of being big on the little things. If that means that following a stay in the hotel, children reminisce about free marshmallows from the chocolate fountain, the friends they made in Kids Kamp or the endless hours they spent on the jungle gym and teen zone, then we feel we have delivered. Likewise if parents have had time to themselves for a cup of coffee or a meal in the evening, then we have succeeded in giving them a memorable holiday.”

For many years, the Quality Hotel & Leisure Club in Clonakilty has strived to develop a facility where all members of the family are catered for, from toddlers and children to teenagers and parents. The aim of developing such a resort culminated in May 2009 with the completion of an extension to the hotel which is home to an indoor jungle gym activity centre, a teen zone, a crèche and a coffee dock for watchful parents. All of this is combined with the existing facilities such as the Leisure Club, onsite Cinema, Outdoor Playground, Kids Kamp and the attention to detail of friendly and efficient staff.

Clonakilty is a beautiful location in the heart of West Cork, where family attractions are in abundance. Take time to visit the Model Railway Village, have a game of pitch and putt and walk Inchydoney beach. Finally when it comes to selecting your accommodation, if you are looking for a holiday to remember in a hotel that will go the extra mile, then the award winning Quality Hotel & Leisure Club, Clonakilty is the place for you and your family.
